During August, Industria Chiquibul initiated an employee football tournament to promote the health and well-being of its staff. Men and women from various departments formed teams to participate. The goal is to provide a space for employees to unwind from their daily routines, stay active, and enjoy physical activity and sports. A designated area with quality equipment ensured safety, with a stocked first aid kit on standby in case of injuries. The company values a workspace filled with teamwork opportunities to promote a healthy environment. This tournament exemplified the company's commitment to employees' well-being and sustainability initiatives. Read more about this tournament at our official blog.

Planet

During August, several members of the sustainability team at Industria Chiquibul received a certificate in the Sustainable Palm Oil course offered by Grepalma Guatemala. After several months of learning from topics such as palm health, responsible agrochemicals use and communities relations, our team was enriched with a invaluable educational experience in sustainability. Lessons about conducting EISA, AVC and LUCA studies were also taught during the course, and a field visit to culminate and put into practice different topics was offered.

At Industria Chiquibul, we are continuously learning in our mission to become an international sustainable leader and follow our purpose.
